

System Application Example Classical Orchestra

iLive T-112

There exist many situations where classical musicians need a discrete monitoring solution, such as tv shows and open air performances.

Most sources are channel Direct Outputs. Grouping and key mapping is customized for different musicians and archived on a USB stick.

Here left are two example key assignments for the 1st violinist (above) and one of two clarinet players (below).